

(Seedling and types of plants)

Hi! I am Sidy, a tiny little seed.
Today I am a bit sad because, today I am going to be buried under the soil for some time. It will be dark, I'll be alone. But I am happy too because after a few days of struggle, I will become a tiny green sapling and then I will turn into a plant after sometime.

Would you like to see how I grow through my journey.
Let me show you with the help of a picture.

This is how I grow from a seed to a sapling. With required nutrients from the soil, water and sun light I grow slowly, until I shoot up from the soil and grow out to be a sapling. I grow and turn into a plant. A sapling can grow into different kinds of plants. Let me tell you about them.
